

Technology Solutions – GPS Devices

NABD has conducted three national surveys covering the use of payment devices and authored three "white papers" on the findings. Our conclusion is that there are two types of operators in the BPHH industry: those who already use these devices and those who should! A panel of device providers will explain what the real benefits of using these devices are. Your workbook contains an updated payment device checklist to help guide you through the decision process during and after this conference. Are you using the right devices now? Do they improve your collection results and efficiency? What mistakes do operators make when using them? What are the compliance concerns? Should you disclose their usage? In this workshop, you will learn from leading experts and then you can meet with them in the solutions hall. Your competition is using this technology, are you?
